I. Work done in the past week

Finished the book browse list and the search function, but there can still be some improvements on the search.

II. Challenges / problems faced

The hard part of this is the indexing for the books. When user search for some books, the books that doesn't match the search queue will be removed, but the index of the book is still there. To make this "index thing" works, we have include another list which is the original list, letting the new search queue list can have something to reference to, which makes the indexing correct for displaying the book's data.

III. Tasks planned to be done in the coming week

Finish up the search function and start working with the chat function.
